- Service as role models for their families, peers, or communities

- Applications must be submitted online no later than Wednesday, May 22, 2024, at 5:00 PM.

Eligibility

First Literacy Scholarships are for adults who have completed or will have completed their adult basic education (ABE) studies between April 30, 2022, and June 30, 2024, at a community-based ABE program, a free preparatory program offered by a local higher education institution, or a volunteer-based program serving the basic education needs of adults in Massachusetts.

- A maximum of 5 applications per program under the same 501(c)(3) can be submitted and a maximum of 2 will be awarded (please note that this is a newer policy).
- Nominating programs may assist students throughout the application process, but applicants must write their own personal statements.
- Scholarship recipients must report on their progress to First Literacy in January and June, either in person at a Winter meeting hosted by First Literacy, or by filling out a form emailed to them by First Literacy.
- Students who are awarded a scholarship, but who are unable to pursue their studies as planned, must inform First Literacy within one month after stopping their studies.
- First Literacy scholars who have maintained contact with First Literacy and have fulfilled our simple reporting requirements will be invited to apply for a Continuing Scholarship. A link to the Continuing Scholarship Application online will be sent directly to these scholars who may apply on their own, without connecting with their former ABE (Adult Basic Education) programs.
