

- Students' writing is in standard font (not italic); students' writing is left intact with no editing or standardization of spelling or grammar.
 - Prompts from teachers are in italic font.
-

Student 1

In class we said, love is "a good vibe" "a feeling" and "a commitment". We said love is when you are thinking about the one you love and sometimes you express your love in public or in private. How did the movie "Moonlight" change how you think of love?

In my case, I expressed my love only in private. If I express my love in public, I might be a little bit embarrassed. But love is a wonderful and powerful thing. I should try more passionate love all the time. Two of the guys love each other. I hope that they are happy to be together.

How have the beliefs and experiences in your culture, your religion etc. influenced you to think about love and gender roles?

In Japan, we have some gender roles. These days, a job environment is better than it was 10 years ago. In the past, a woman couldn't return to work when a woman had a baby. In addition, a man couldn't wear makeup. But nowadays, a man can wear makeup is quite a popular way.

How does your own behavior contribute to making these cultural beliefs continue on?

I hope that we are less borderline.

Student 2

faggot is a word use to make gay people for bad

In class we said, love is "a good vibe" "a feeling" and "a commitment". We said love is when you are thinking about the one you love and sometimes you express your love in public or in private. How did the movie "Moonlight" change how you think of love?

Chiron knows that when Kevin continually hits him does so out of pride, especially in order to satisfy others who ask him to do so. Chrion, didn't react. This is a form of Chiron expressing friendship that he feels for the other boy. Chiron does not tell on Kevin despite his teacher asking him to file a complaint. This situation shows me that sometimes when there is a certain situation that arises, you have to take things calmly and think first. The love of others is a good thing

How have the beliefs and experiences in your culture, your religion etc. influenced you to think about love and gender roles?

Culture and religion help me know how I should behave with others, respect others, be hospitable with others and give importance to my family, my friends. Thanks to my faith, I think that helping others, giving love to children, contributing to the formation of children have always been my strong point. Hence the reason why I support children in a remote area of my country in Haiti. In relation to culture, it can influence us by accepting the other as they are, by accepting themselves by trying to bind us to their customs, their mores. And it is this overtaking that helps us to have respect for people who are different.

How does your own behavior contribute to making these cultural beliefs continue on?

When I look at myself, I can say that some of my behaviors do attitude continuing these cultural beliefs. For example, in my culture, women and men each have very strict, gender roles. I believe in this. Gender roles are not beneficial to society, so this is somewhere my thinking could be able to grow and change in order to make myself better.

Student 3

In class we said, love is "a good vibe" "a feeling" and "a commitment". We said love is when you are thinking about the one you love and sometimes you express your love in public or in private. How did the movie "Moonlight" change how you think of love?

I think love is the union of physical and emotion. It involves biological, psychological, physical, erotic, emotional, social, or spiritual feelings and behaviors. Someone's sexual orientation is their pattern of sexual interest in the opposite or same sex. Why does Someone love another? There are many reasons. First, it is physical necessary, for example, different or the same sex attraction. Then, two lover people have a lot of emotion communication. As a result, they live in together. I think this movie express human love is free. I think it's OK. But I dislike it.

How have the beliefs and experiences in your culture, your religion etc. influenced you to think about love and gender roles?

I have married for many years. Classical culture affects me a lot. I insist on loving is duty to your lover and your children. A man, husband and father must must take responsibility for family.

How does your own behavior contribute to making these cultural beliefs continue on?

I take responsibility for my family. I did work hard and give my child better study and live environment. I have enough courage to face many challenges.

Student 4

What did you learn tonight?

We learned tonight, Presdation form elax and by you about the form from the hospital or schools and we learned we have more option for the gender like non-binary.

What was interesting? Why?

I like th conversation also I know new vocabulary. also what is the different about gender identity and sex at birth, I interested that.

What was difficult?

for me I have problem in the internet connection. I didn't hear anything.

Student 5

What did you learn?

I learned about the different forms that we use in hospital and school.

What was interesting to you? Why?

Learn the correct way to fill those forms depend the place you are.

What was difficult?

understand about the Gender and how people identify themselves.

Student 6

What did you learn?

I learn new vocabulary like non-binary

What was interesting to you? Why?

the most interesting part was when Alex explain how to use pronoun

What was difficult?

I think the most difficult part it was understand new gender in this new form I remember 10 years ago just exist male and female in the form.

Student 7

What did you learn?

I learned how to do registration forms.

What was interesting to you? Why?

I was interesting about new vocabulary for example I didn't know about Non Binary It was a new word for me.

What was difficult?

It wasn't difficult but I was timid. I wanted to ask questions I didn't do that.

Student 8

What did you learn?

I learned few of words from Alex which is helpful fill up form to understand and easy.

What was interesting? Why?

It was interesting to me some vocabulary words like accommodation and non-binary because these words we didn't use or pay attention, that's why it's really interesting.

What was difficult?

The difficult for me is sex at birth, pronounce name which is how I understand what's meaning of these words exactly.

Student 9

What did you learn?

Tonight I learned about hospital, school form. I learned about gender, sex, birthde, preferred your name, identity gender, nonbinary, intersex, preferd your name.

What was interesting? Why?

What preferd pronouns you for example: he, his, her, she, they, their.

What was difficult?

No one was difficult. I learned new vocabulary: accomdation I saw the picture of children, hospital, Cambridge public school.

Student 10

What did you learn?

In today class I learn a lot of new vocabulary words. It was very useful to me.

What was interesting? Why?

My class was very interesting. Our visitor's was nice. I learn a lot of thing. Now I have very good understanding about how we fill out forms. One thing I know now: how we use preferred pronouns. It was very clear. The other thing I learn was vocabulary. For example: Intersex--- I know this word in my language but I did not know in English.

What was difficult?

There is no difficulty in today class. Thank you!
